

Welcome to Locust Landing!

#6628-#66918-74±Acres-$795,000.00 Development opportunities are few and far between especially with this much acreage tucked within the town limits of South Hill. Whether you are thinking high density housing, business opportunity, or individual housing lots, Locust Landing may be your huckleberry. The land offers over 900 feet of road frontage with gently rolling hills currently used for soybean production in the 27 acres of open land with growing timber on the balance of the property. This would be an ideal location for apartments, town homes, or a condominium project offering a secluded location with abundant flora and fauna with the amenities of town only a short distance away from home. Bordered by residential housing on one side and business operations on another, you have lots of options for long-term development. In the short-term, there is a 1.5 acre pond that draws good duck activity if recreational activities are of interest. South Hill is a growing town with a need for more housing.
