

#6729-#68466-114.9±Acres-$350,000.00 Nestled in the picturesque landscapes of Lunenburg County, Virginia, a promising investment opportunity awaits. This newly established property boasts a plethora of features that make it an appealing choice for those seeking to invest in residential, commercial, or recreational ventures. From the carefully planted pines to the stream meandering through the land, this property offers a canvas of possibilities for various ventures. With its convenient location near the Meherrin River and Kenbridge, this property stands as a testament to the versatility and potential that Lunenburg County has to offer. Land Features: In March of 2023, a thoughtful initiative saw the planting of pines across this expansive property, setting the foundation for sustainable future growth. The meticulously planned road system provides easy access throughout the property, enhancing its potential for development. A defining feature of the land is the stream that gracefully traverses its expanse, adding both aesthetic beauty and functional value. This stream not only contributes to the scenic charm but also enhances the property's desirability for recreational activities.
